

In 2021, UC academics developed, submitted and received approval for 15 new qualifications.

Significant increase in online learning opportunities.

Establishment of the Executive Education programmes in the UC Business School.

The new Director of Health and Safety recruited a new team and instituted a partnership model so every leader has an expert health and safety support person. A refreshed health and safety plan has been developed and activated, an in-depth analysis of risk across the institution has been conducted and a new health and safety system (Assura) launched so that better data can be collected and reported.

The Vice-Chancellor stated that significant positive developments have been made in 2021, thanks to everyone's efforts, but acknowledged it's been a challenging and tiring year for staff.

In discussion it was noted that:

Council congratulated the Vice-Chancellor on an excellent report and the achievements of 2021.

There was a lot of new initiatives, including those that support women.

The Canterbury Knowledge Commons partnership allows leaders to exchange information, form strategies and prioritise how organisations can work together. A programme of initiatives will be worked on early in 2022. It was recognised that ECan, Lincoln University, Te Papa Hauroa, Selwyn and Waimakariri District Councils were future possible additions to the partnership.
